PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

To The Senior Class:

Principal Murdock once used these words on a Christmas card, "Welcome to the Future". This will be my greeting to you as your college years come to a close and you enter the future. In this chaotic period of history, the years ahead will be full of uncertainties. But I hope that the college has given you a strength of mind, a fortitude of heart and an abiding faith in the eternal verities, so that you will not lose your way or yourself in whatever the future holds for you.

You are to be teachers at a time when the world needs teachers who can give others wisdom, courage and faith. To this great work the future welcomes you.

GROVER C. BOWMAN, President

HISTORY

(CLASS OF '49)

It is a Class of seventeen
Who stoppeth ere they pass
Beyond the College Halls, to glean
Fond memories from the past.

With more than half - two score and three
We started toward this goal,
But less in size, no less are we
Our duties to unfold.

In jest or justly we've been typed
With "strong and silent" code,
And proudly we reveal this might
Which paved a solid road.

We stood the strong transition when
Our halls began to burst,
As every class grew strong with men,
Each stronger than the first.

We've watched a changing faculty,
At every loss we've grieved,
But none the less, new members we
Have cordially received.

All college clubs in our four years
Have been a helpful tool,
We've even touched the one of peers,
High Honors in the school.

We've rallied round Mt. Greylock's tower,
We claim a Stunt Night prize,
We even have before her hour,
A teacher in disguise.

We've seen the renovations made
In paint and personnel,
The former was a growing aid
Caused by the fire bell.

We, even in our quietness
Have proved the college norm;
The answer for the noise is this,
It's all made in the Dorm.

Here but an outline has been penned
Of history's open door
This School and Education have
Our hope forevermore.

Paul A. Klein

CLASS SONG

(Tune - Battle Hymn of the Republic)

Though we have felt the sadness
Of our parting from this school,
We will look ahead together
And let Friendship be our rule,
We will always let our actions
Show that thinking is our tool,
And we'll remember you.
N.A.S.T.C. we'll teach school;
N.A.S.T.C. we'll travel,
N.A.S.T.C. we'll marry,
But we'll remember you.

Since we have worked together
We have added to our life,
We have held our goal before us
And have conquered every strife,
May this school go on forever
Giving greatness to each life—
And we'll remember you.
N.A.S.T.C. we'll teach school;
N.A.S.T.C. we'll travel,
N.A.S.T.C. we'll marry,
But we'll remember you.

Phyliss Andrews

CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1949, being of sound mind, sound body, and silent lips do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament.

I, Ann Schlosstein, leave my ability to make a score of 70 (or a reasonable facsimile thereof, anyway) in golf.

I, Mary Martin, leave to all dormitory girls my "baby-sitting" techniques.

I, Gertrude Peck, leave my acting ability to anyone slightly interested.

I, Helen Taskin, leave my ability to enjoy life (joie de vivre) at all times.

I, Pearl Landstrom, leave my strong and quiet manner to be distributed where needed.

I, Paul Klein, leave many broken hearts to be mended by the male contingent of the student body.

I, Roland Gagnier, leave my techniques for walking the baby at three o'clock in the morning to all prospective fathers in the student body.

I, Arthur Bartlett, leave my ability to use big words in the right places.

I, Marie Lamarre, leave my enthusiasm for all things to all students of N. A. S. T. C.

I, Alice Bosma, leave the trials and tribulations of ruling the dormitory to anyone who wants them.

I, Merlys LaFogg, leave my "keep-awake" pills to all who need them.

I, Frances Karrey, leave my artistic ability to be used only in Mr. Flagg's classes—not for doodling purposes in the other classes.

I, Viola Harris, leave my musical ability to all glee club members.

I, Carol Molloy, leave my gum-chewing techniques to all underclassmen.

I, Betty Grande, leave my ability to be the first one out of class.

I, Phyliss Andrews, leave my transportation difficulties behind me.

I, Teresa Connors, leave my permission to keep the windows closed during winter sessions.

We, the class of 1949, for the benefit of the teachers——leave!

Junior Class History

The needs, interests and abilities of the class of '50 have been met and satisfied during, this, the notorious junior year. The particular needs for furthuring their education and becoming familiar with the art of pedogogy were satisfied by a full schedule of classes at the college and the training school. There were no noticeable repercussions resulting from the hyper-active schedule. There is little that can break such spirit as ours!

The interests were numerous and various. Every organization found itself either led by or at least swamped by the vociferous members of the class. Never let it be said that the class of '50 is shy, retiring or humble.

Their abilities were utilized often, challenged sometimes but ineffective, never. The junior stunt night, a western satire, is an excellent example. The prom was memorable and a fitting tribute to the departing seniors.

The loss of Dr. Harry S. Broudy to Framingham State Teachers struck home, for he was the class advisor. The only happy consequences of his leaving were the memorable evening at Armstrong's in his honor and the appointment of Dr. Mileham as his successor.

The year has passed, and a slightly uninhibited, slightly delinquent and exceedingly spirited class has risen to become high and mighty, but never dignified seniors.

Sophomore Class History

Here's our history told in versus,
A tale of blessings and of c(o)urses;
And yet filled up with such joyful joys
For our boys met girls and girls met boys.

Looking Back

Oh, in September back we trooped;
At our schedules just once we looked,
While all our summer vim and vigor
Now went to make our brains grow bigger.

Back to School

But still with a gay abandon we
Did frolic about with gaiety,
And (for a tiny fee), were given
A glimpse of gala halls of heaven.

Sophomore Prom

Oh, soon the weeping and wailing came,
Although we struggled with might and main.
The dreaded blue books were upon us,
And we all felt that we were goners.

Exams

But we'll draw the veil up on our sorrow
To raise it again upon the morrow
In a room where happy voices ring
And the sounds of carefree laughter ring.

Stunt night

After looking back on this long year,
We still are hoping that soon we will hear
( 'Cause much we did was really nifty)
"We'll all be back in nineteen fifty!"

Looking Ahead

Freshmen Class History

Julius Caesar and the Freshmen Class — Who would ever think that they had anything in common? The idea is not quite so fantastic as it may seem. Caesar said, "I came, I saw, I conquered," and that is exactly what we Freshmen did.

In September we came, not any too sure of ourselves but determined to do the best we could. The Freshmen Reception and the dormitory initiation made us realize that we were in friendly territory. The upper classmen gave us many ideas about what was expected from our class and we attempted to fulfill their great expectations. After a spirited campaign we elected officers to represent us in the Student Association. In addition, the social sponsored by our class was very successful. We managed to survive examinations and then looked back on what we consider a very successful semester.

The second half of the year brought us new problems and new endeavors. Stunt night was only one of our difficulties, but under the direction of able committees the talented members of the class did an excellent job. In all our efforts we were generously aided by many in the other classes to whom we are sincerely grateful.

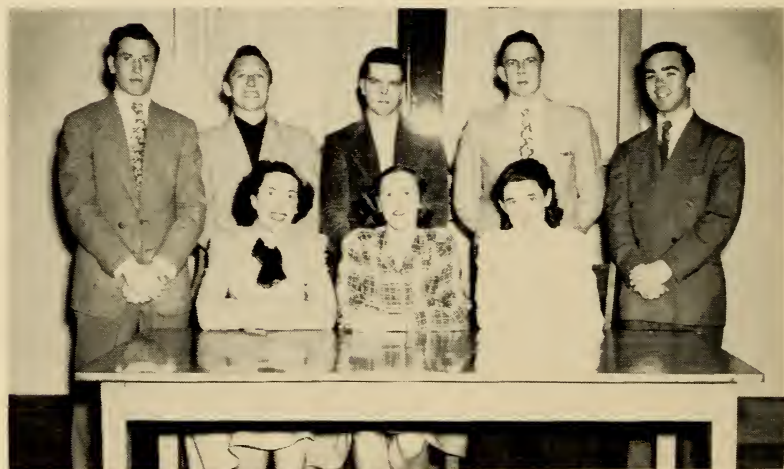

Spring came to the college on the hill and with it came exams once more. Our first year at N. A. S. T. C. was ended and all of us could look back on it with happiness. As Freshmen we had studied long and laughed long and we felt we had been successful in all our class projects. Like Caesar we came, we saw, and surely we conquered.
